

Dear [NAME],

I am supporting the #StreetsForKids initiative because I am worried about how dirty the air is and how unsafe the roads are around my children's school.

Children are those who suffer the most from air pollution and are really vulnerable to road collisions, especially around schools at pick-up and drop-off times when traffic is at its worst. By delivering school streets - closing the roads around schools to cars - children can cross the road and play safely, breathe cleaner air and are able to travel to school more independently on foot or by bike.

The number of school streets in Europe is growing each day, but we need one in front of every school. They're a win for our children's health and for our climate.

Will you take action?

Thank you for your consideration!
